I love how the product is so Dyslexia Friendly – the ability to use different fonts, background colours etc make it so accessible for those with an SpLD, including dyslexia. The use of AI to support is inspiring, but even without it I can see so many applications for those needing to get their ideas down in school, university and in employment. A great resource. ||

As an Assessor, Ayoa is my favourite software to demonstrate and recommend for university students (and to use for myself!). One of my favourite features is the idea bank, as very often students will advise they have ideas but don't know where they fit in their plan.

I have also found students respond well to the task boards, as it enables them to keep track of projects, deadlines and their progress on each.

After using various apps that have the features of Ayoa separately, finding one that encompasses all the features in one place has just been fantastic. Real big fan so far, still learning the tricks but yes very good execution and practicality. I'm thinking about using it with my coaching clients, family and also as a business platform.
